Christmas Week - Bringing Christmas Cheer to the Workplace

Next week 9 – 14 November, is our 'Christmas Week event'. Of course it's online and we will be focusing on adding some Christmas cheer to the workplace.

Despite this unusual and for some unsettling year and now a second national lockdown, we hope to inspire businesses to celebrate the Christmas season at work despite COVID19.

Over the coming weeks, many businesses must remain open, others will shut their doors temporarily again while staff work from home. But wouldn't it be wonderful to have some Christmas cheer installed to welcome workers who have to go into work or those coming back at the beginning of December?

We are sure that a few Christmas decorations will cheer staff and visitors to your business whether it is for those who are open during lockdown or those returning at the beginning of December. Whether it is a large installation or small touches, we all deserve some Christmas Cheer more than ever this year – and plants@work members can help create this for you.

So during the course of next week we will use our website and social media to highlight past winning Christmas installations to show off member's skills. We'll also feature the latest Christmas trends and a few old ones too plus we'll announce the results of this year's Favourite Christmas Plant.
